about

After accomplishing my Master in Book Design in 2007, I have been professionally active as a graphic designer. I worked as an employee and as a freelancer doing all kinds of graphic design tasks, such as identity and logo design, layouts for books and magazines, packaging, illustration, photography, videography and prototyping.

In July 2017, I decided to broaden my skill set by following a 10-month-long training in Front-end Development. Since 2018 I am being employed as a broad spectrum graphic and web designer at a Brussels based company specialised in application development.
